Summary of the News.

According to our Washington correspondent, there appears to be great bustle and activity in the Navy Department. Vessels have been ordered to prepare for sea, and supplies and munitions of war are being collected with alacrity. What has produced this extraordinary commotion is not postively known, but it is intimated that, among other shings, the Mediterranean squadron is to be strengthened by the addl ion of two or three menof-war. We hope that Secretary Graham-now that he is fairly aroused to the importance of preparing our naval force for any emergency that may arise--will cast his eye in a southerly direction, especially to the Mosquite coast, and see that we have a man-of-war to protect our maritime commerce in that quarter.

Mr. Bradbury vesterday of cred a joint resolution the United States Senate, providing for the printing, in one volume, of a compendium of the reports from the beads of departments, and other public papers, instead of the decuments in detail. This is a most excellent movement, and, if carried out, will prove a source of great economy. There are thousands of pages printed, and ordered to be printed, every year, which are of no earthly benefit to any one but the printer who has the contract. We are gratified to observe that many Senators are beginning to open their eyes to the corruption produced by the present system of giving the printing out by contract. The debate on the consus printing bill, shows plainly that the present plan is evidently used by both political parties as a means of keeping up partizan newspapers, which are solely sustained in this way. Lot the system be abolished at once.

A bill was reported by the Judiciary Committee. in the House of Representatives, to prevent the heads of departments, and all members of both branches of Congress, from prosecuting claims against the government. If passed-and it certainly eaght to be-this bill will put an effectual check upon all Galphin operations. In reply to a resolution of inquiry, the President transmitted a letter frem our Minister to England, which states that he has been assured by the British government that it never intended to sanction or suggest the employment of negroes from the United States, in the West Indies, in any manner that would conflict with the interests of our people, by inducing slaves se run away, &c. On the contra y, they merely designed, in their original plan-which appears to have fallen through-to prevail upon free blacks to smigrate to and cultivate the islands. Such a proseeding would be highly beneficial, not only to the poor free negroes, but to numerous white persons in this country, because the former would be estab-Behed is a climate more congenial to their nature, and the whites would get much work to do which ie now done by the blacks.

Kossuth yesterday made spec thes on his introduction to the two Houses of the Maryland Legislasure. A synopsis of the proceedings will be found under the telegraphic head. He arrived at Baltimore last night, and will be in Harrisburg to-day.

But little business of consequence was yestorday transacted in the Logislature. Mike Walsh made me very judicious remarks in the Assembly, during the debate on the Kossuth resolutions. He said that the preper manner for the members to show their sympathy for suffering Hungary, was to put their hands in their poskets and pull out $25 each for the cause. Just so. That would be pracfical sympathy. We should like to see the $25 arrangement added as an amendment to the Kossoth resolutions, before they are passed.

The contrasts recently given out by the Canal Board are still the cause of considerable excitement, both in and out of the Legislature, at Albany. If we are to judge from the movements in Congress and our State Legislature, the Calway Steam Navigation Company is going ahead. Com. Stockten yesterday gave notice, in the Senate, of a bill to establish the line, to run between Jersey City and Galway; and a potition was also presented to authorize the Pastmaster General to sand the Irish mails by the same route.

We understand that the Spanish Minister at Washington is exerting himself to gain a pardon or a respite for Autonio Lopez, the young Spanish sailor who is condemned to be executed in this city on the 21d inst., for the murder of policeman

George S. Boutwell, the present democratic insembent, was yesterday re-clouted Governor of the State by the Legislature of Massachusetts.

Acrounts from all quarters represent the weather se intersely celd. Most extrordinary snow storms visited Buffulo and New Orleans yesterday and the day before, and navigation on the Ohio has again been suspended in consequence of the ice. A very interesting colored meeting took place last evening, at the Anthony street Baptist Colored Church, denouncing, without measure, the colonination scheme, which proposes to send the men of color to Liberia. "The White Coat Philosopher," and other white livered abolitionists, were roughly handled by their sable brothren. The strongest denunciations were hurled right and left, and the agitation of the slave question was opened even with greater violence and excitement than ever. The hypogritical clergy came in for their share of denuncistion, and Gov. Hunt was served up with the same pauce. A Committee of Vigilance is to be sent to cause. A Committee of Vigilance is to be sent to Albany, to watch the proceedings of the Legislature during the whole time of sitting, less there chould be a make in the grass. The whole whig party are threatened with vengeance. The proceedings did not terminate sill 12 o'clock. They ware fell of fan. The Hounth Intervention Excitement-

The Kossuth intervention excitement still goes shead, like a great snowball, increasing in size as it rolls-vires acquirit cundo. It proceeds from State to State, enrolling fresh converts in each; and seems likely to extend over the whole Union, from Maine to Texas.

Already in the following States has the Kessuth doctrine been introduced, and, in some of them, resolutions passed, more or less strong, but all of them recognizing and advocating the principle of active sympathy in European affairs in general, and in the cause of Hungary in particular :-

New York, Massachusetts, Ohio, Kentucky, Maine, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Indiana, Tennessee. Alabama.

If the mevement proceeds over the Union at this rate-embracing North, East, West, and Southit is going to produce as great an effect upon the politics of the country, and its external relations, as the Texan excitement in 1844, or the advent of the Irish exiles to our shores, after the abortive insurrection in "the Emerald Isle," in 1798. It is well known that the first organization, the struggle, and final success, of the democratic party, in the time of Jefferson, grew out of similar historical facts to those we are daily recording of the Koesuth excitement.

The Emmete, the Sampsons, and the other lrish patriots of that day, were received with the same tolat as Kossuth. They were honoved with the same triumphs in New York, and in the city of Philadelphia, which was hen the seat of the general government. The popular excitement rose as high then as now, and the triumphs of the exiles were much the same. Some of them were, by special act of the Legislature of this State, enrolled members of the bar, and admitted to practice at once, without any previous legal education or training in our courts. All received public honors or favors of some kind

The Irish sympathetic movement of that day tended to produce an entire revolution in the domestic policy of the government of the country. John Adams opposed it, and se did Rufas Sing, the American Minister at London, who like Louis Napoleon in the case of Kossath, went the length of insisting that the Irish exiles should not be permitted to land in the United States, or if they landed, that they should be expelled as dangerous frebrands. Adams and his party failed; and the democratic party, under the tremendous excitement of that day, completely

In the present day, both parties are running into the mania, together with a third party that did not then exist. There is a general rush in the Northern States, among the democrats, whigs, and free seilers, to see who will be able to apprepriate the excitement started by Kossuth, as an element of success for the coming elections. Just now, it is difficult to determine which of the three parties are most deeply immersed in the popular fanaticism. The young politicians of the whigs are perfectly crazy on the subject; and the youthful democrats, who rejoice in the "style and title" of "Young America," seem to be equally insane; while the cunning, energetic free soil faction are working like moles in the dark to cutstrip both parties, and epeross Kossuth and his movement entirely to themselves. Which of them is destined to succeed is one of those questions which time alone can solve, and is at present wrapped up in the womb of futurity. Kossuth, meantime, is holding on by them all, and is playing them as a skilful angler plays a trout or a salmon. Under the influence of this excitement, even Webster comes out as strong as any of the ardent young zealots of the day, and is no longer looked upon as an "old fogie," but as a warm, sympathetic young man; while General Scott, with all the blushing honors of his battles mantling in his cheeks, is regarded as an old war horse, past serthe slaughter house, to which all such superannuated animals are destined. The bero of Lundy's Lane, who is known to be as stubborn as a mule, will probably adhere to his resolution, and, in despite of the popularity that ever attaches to military services in this country, he may now lose the nomination in the whig convention; while Webster, or some other mere civi lian-whig, democrat, or free soiler-will ride triumphant through the land, upon the recently imported Hungarian charger, carrying every State by storm, and at length taking possession of the " spolic onima" in the White House. There are exciting times before us. The Kossuth excitement is a first rate piece as good as a queen -in the political game of chess.

HULEUB AMONG THE HUNGARIANS .- From an counts recently received from Washington, it appears that difficulties have occurred between the Hungarians, in relation to Madame Tochman, formerly known as Mad'lle. Apollonia Jagello; and that Korauth has been mixed up in the affair. A libel suit and indictment have grown out of the uarrel, which is likely to lead to some carious developements. Let us give a brief outline of the parties and facts, so as to coable our readers to get an inkling of what it is all about.

Capt. De Ana, a Eavarian, supposed to have been in the Hungarian war, joined Ujhazy somewhere in he north of Europe, and came over here with him. well as some others who were supposed to have been engaged in that war, but who, it is alloged, never took any part in it. The reader will recollect that Mademoiselle Jagello was with Uthage, and received military and other honors in this city. Subsequently she went to Washington, and was employed in copying in one of the departments of the government : and, receiving the attentions of Major Tochman, a Pole, was married to that gentleman. De Ana went in search of employment Washington; and, not being successful, came back to New York. He returned to Washington, and while he was there a quarrel took piace between him and Madame Tochman. In consequence of some remarks about her in the capital, an indiscment has been brought against him before the rand Jury. Kessuth, when at Washington, was summoned before that body, but managed to get himself excused from attendance. The indictment, however, was found. A great deal of comment has been the consequence among the Hungarians-both there who followed Ujhazy, those who came over in the Mississippi, and those who accompanied Kossuth himself in the Humboldt. It seems that the Hungarians are greatly divided among themselves on the questions involved -come taking one side, some the other, and a third party, who are neutral, being natious to prevent an exposure of the private affairs of the exiles, because the trial is likely to give an in ight into matters not known to the public, and involves several persons who have pursed shemselves if as notabilities, whose true position is said to have been very different-all which thads to a solution that may take the community by surprisa. On the appealed arrival of Kossuth is this city, Majo hman and Madame Tochman came for Washington; and, in relation to the ex-Governore Hungary, there was some difficulty between these and the Hurgarians who had come ever in the blisdesippi. We believe Major Tochman and Madame Toolman returned to Washington, without any conciliation with their friends and sequalatances a to the points which were the subject of controversy and litteration. These remain to be rettled by a court of law, and no doubt the public will look of the whole matter. This is not the only subject of contention among the Hungarians. They quarrelled on board the Mississippi, in relation to Kossuth himself; and there were two parties-one taking one side, and

forward with interest and curiosity to a full expeed and things. The Hungarians are not alone am Europeans in quarrelling when they come to this country. The Irish, for instance, who have emigrated to this country, are famous for quarrelling with each other, and are divided into factions, called "Far-downers" and "Corkonians," with many other euphonious designations. And after the famous battle of Slievegammen, in 1849, when "the leaders" came over here, they had numerous rows-some of them heading one faction, and some another. Assaults and fraces in the street took place, and riots at public meetings, at which they literally tore the clothes off each others' backs. The exposure in the newspapers seems to have had the good effect of repressing these ebulifulens ever since, though we have reason to believe there is no great entente certial between the belligerents, even OFERA AND FASHION-TER Two Horms.-We are now in the beginning of the second scaron of opera and fashion. On Monday evening last, one of the two rival companies opened the ball at Niblo's, with considerable success. The performance was excellent, the artists all acquitting themselves with great ability, and well sustaining their high reputation. The audience was very respecta-ble, and, for the most part, elegantly dressed, though not wearing the ball decorations hithertefashionable in Astor Place.

It would seem as if a new class of society had been attracted-a since not in the habit of visiting the Opera at all, because it was necessary to go to the expense and the trouble of appearing in fall dress every night. A new fashion is new set at Nible's, and people may go there in their ordinary apparel, just as they were went to go to the theatree, without attracting the stoulahed gaze of the audience. Who can tell to what this new fashion may lead? It is possible it may end in a complete revolution with regard to dress at the Opera, and that at some future day, not very distant, there will be no necessity for appearing, even in the house white vests, and dress coats for gentlemen, and, for ladics, dress caps, feathers, flowers, and other ornaments for the head, and ribbons, laces, opera cloaks, jewelry, and all the other finery which make an opera nudience so brilliant in London and Paris. and hitherto the codfish aristocracy in this city. This is a republican country, and it would appear to be more in conformity with the genius of our institutions, for every man, woman and child to wear upon those occasions just what they please.

So much for dress-now as to numbers. Though the atten fance on Monday was good at Niblo's, considering the intensely cold weather, and a dollar as the price of admission, the scason will not be in its highest state of development till Maretzek opens at the Astor Place on Monday next. Then there will be a competition between the two that will fill both houses, and the general public will go to witness the trial of skill between the Montagues and the Capulets-Madame Boslo, Rose da Vries, Miss Whiting, Badiali, Bottini, Lorini, Col-

THE FOREXET CASE IN THE COUNTRY .- The evidence brought out in the Forrest case is creating a great sensation through the country. The great bulk of the country newspapers pounds on the developements, and publish them, with all kinds of denunciation against the litigants and the witnesses. Some of the papers, on the other hand, refuse to publish them, because the details are considered indecent and immoral; while the same journals frequently contain articles and sketches for more indecent and immoral than anything which, in this case, has shocked the fastidious herves of the Courier and Enquirer, and such like journals. The Forrest trial will constitute a marked era in fashionable life in New York. Of this there can be no doubt.

MORE OF LOLA MONTES, AND WILLIS AGAIN.-We understand that Lola Montes intends to reply to certain passages in the last letter of Chevaller Willis, in which he misrepresents her position and career in Bayaria-her life in Paris-and her motives in coming to this country. She is indignant at these misrepresentations, and her black eyes burn with vengeance. The Jesuits, and other agents of the despots of Europe, exiled her from Bavaria, and deprived her of her beautiful chateau and . estates at Landsfeld, basides a large quantity of jewelry-(she has about $200,000 of diamonds still in her possession)-because she was in favor of constitutional government and popular rights. She intends to put this right side up before the American people.

EXCITEMENT AMONG THE DIPLOMATS AT WASH-INGTON-BITTER HOSTILITY TO KOSSUTH AND HIS Wonshippens.-The National Intelligencer, and other journals at Washington that usually feed at the public treasury, or pick up crumbs from the diplomatic tables, are very savage against Chancelfor Walworth, of New York, because he and others, in an address to Koszuth, alluded to the poculiar social influence of Washington against all popular enthuciasm for struggling freedom in other countries. The "old fogles" are waking up. Why don't Congress stop all their printing jobs at ALL Gas - Senator Dougles, who made so great a fuse as a Presidential enadidate last summer, has not get a single delegate to the Baltimore Convention, in Penrsylvania, New York, or New England. Neither has a complete troupe for every variety of opera, though they will probably both get along pretty well till the erection of a large house, at moderate prices for admission, enlists the whole force of both companies, and then we shall have a magnificent troupe, and a performance every night. There is "a good time coming," for opera as well as for everything else. Meanwhile, let us apply with contentment such blessings as the gods have given us.

DANIEL WEBSTER AND STRUGOLING LIBERTY.—The platform which Mr. Webster, the Secretary of State, lays down in his Kotsuth speech, is universal sympathy for struggling liberty in every quarter of the gisbe. He expressed it specifically, twenty-five years ago, for Greece, and now, same platform embraces a very neitive sympathy, therefore, as described by his Greek and Hungarian speeches, and his famous Hulsemann letter, is of most active kind, and has its foundation and busis on the popular voice of active interference in favor of the best of the station house, I than got out of the results of the station house, I than got out of the station shows, and the wounded to the hospital; there are the popular voice of active interference in favor of the station house, I than got out of the station shows, and the wounded to the hospital; there are the popular voice of active interference in favor of the station house, I than got out of the station house, I than got out of the station house, I than got out of the station house, and do not received to be adjust, a contract of the station house, I than got out of the station house, I than got out of the station house, I than got out o

MONKY MARKET.

Tourney, January 13-6 P. M. Quotations for clocks gave way to day. All the effects of holders have not sufficed to maintain prices. The market was week and feverich at the close. At the first teard Rending Suffront declined of per cent, Harlem, Mr. Norwich and Worcester, Mr. New Jersey Zine Co., Jaj and Morris Conal. Mr. At the second board there was a casal peaks among holders of Eric Rairond shock, and large sales were made at a decline of one per cent. Reading Ballrand also fell off M. Kine Co., M.; Norwich and Wereveley, to This does not look much like a great expenden in prices, or much well-dry of a speculative elaracter to the fractes. The bulls sound not despote There will be a greater morgin for an inflation when the movement commenses. It would be a good thought holders of the leading females if prices should settle down two or three per cent more. The depregiation would attract emiside purchasers, and pillimately excate a helier demand, not only for the purposes of speculation, but for permanent investment.

The suggestions of the Secretary of the Treasury, in relation to our eliver coin, deserve the immediate attention of Congress, and not a week should be allowed to elapse without the passage of a law for the regulation of the mirt in conformity to his proposition. That the evil should have continued so long, and no member of Congress thould have discovered it and suggested the remedy, is a matter of surprise; but now that the evil and the remely have been so clearly pointed out by the Proper officer of the government, and brought to the notice of Congress, any louger delay is an imperchannt of their intelligence and capacity for the station they occupy. Not only is the whole nation subjected to serious inconvenience, by the want of silver coin-especially those States who refuse to their banks the us mali notes-but that we should stupidly continue to coin eliver to be inevitably expected out of the country as fast as coined, is the height of folly. Assuming the relation of silver to gold, by our taws, to be as nearly sixteen to one, while the commercial relation is but fifteen to one, we offer a premium to its export to Burope Instead of reducing the weight of the fine sliver in the dollar and its fractions five to ten per cent, we continue to use the old, worn Spanish coin, which is probably abraded twenty per cent and send our new coin to
